PREFACE

The concept of social well-being is literally helpful in many ways.

No matter what type of way or path be pursuing to achieve the sublime objectivity of course, imparting knowledge or removing darkness, and to bring society towards enlightened entity is the precious, pious and constructive act “Work is worship”.

The sole and the most enthusiastic preaching of ancient “Holy Sages” is still relevant to us, and we proudly admit that we have been offering and entering our best input in keeping view that a strong resolution and sustained coaxing can lead towards our dream and objectivity.

The trees and flowers of a garden have to be trimmed to make it look stunning and appealing, otherwise, the plants and bushes will go haywire and spoil the beauty of garden, and won't reap proper blossom. Similarly, a child has to be pruned of its basic instinct, and trained in proper manner, and in order to be beneficial to the society.
